While jeopardizing Delaware's $1.4 billion incorporation industry, Custodian Robert Pincus and other high-powered firms are profiting on the backs of TransPerfect employees.

Skadden, Arps, Slate Meagher and Flom (as of June 2017)
$4,856,132

Connor Group Global Service (as of June 2017)
$4,720,691

Alvarez & Marsal (as of May 2017)
$4,282,286

Grant Thornton (as of May 2017)
$3,488,858

Ernst and Young (as of June 2017)
$1,752,332

Houlian Lokey (as of June 2017)
$1,066,296

Pennell Venture Partners (as of June 2017)
$454,080

Credit Suisse (as of May 2017)
$600,000

ROBERT PINCUS

High-powered lawyer at Skadden, a multi-national law firm, charging TransPerfect $1,425 per hour

...This is what happens when Judge Bouchard lets Custodian Pincus spend millions of dollars, completely unchecked.

Pincus's actions undermine the legislative and legal processes, putting the state's economy at risk.

Call on Pincus to either allow the mediation process to work or give state lawmakers time to pass legislation that would save Delaware's economy.

Email Pincus today at bob.pincus@skadden.com

DelawareforBusiness.org

Paid for by Citizens for a Pro-Business Delaware