SCOTCH & SODA LAUNCHES BIKE COLLABORATION WITH VELORETTI TO CELEBRATE “AMSTERDAM PROOF” CAPSULE COLLECTION.

Available to order across 26 countries in Europe, the six-bike collection includes 2 limited-edition state-of-the-art electric bikes.

AMSTERDAM, August 23, 2022 – Fashion brand Scotch & Soda teams up with fellow Amsterdam-based bike company Veloretti for the launch in Europe of a collection of electric and city bikes, in celebration of Amsterdam Proof, Scotch & Soda’s seasonal unisex rainwear capsule collection, designed to brave the elements in style, no matter the circumstances.

Known for its sleek designs that stand the test of time both aesthetically and practically, Veloretti has created a range of 6 bikes for the collaboration that launches today in 26 European countries. Designed in Amsterdam and manufactured in Europe, the bikes are conceived for daily city commute, combining a clean design with frames made from the highest quality solid aluminum, dusted off with a durable powder-coated finish, and display the Veloretti and Scotch & Soda logos.

Stéphane Jaspar, Scotch & Soda’s CMO, commented: “Amsterdam and bikes are simply inseparable. More than a mode of transportation it’s a way of life in the city. We wanted to celebrate this together with Veloretti, who designs the sleekest and most stylish bikes in town, and bring joy to your daily commute here and abroad. With 6 different bikes in colors that match our latest “Amsterdam Proof” rainwear collection, we will help you stay dry and smiling no matter the weather conditions this fall.”

Tom Wolters, Veloretti’s Head of Sales, added: “It was an easy decision to collaborate with Scotch & Soda. The look and feel of our Veloretti bikes match perfectly with the style of Scotch & Soda. This also goes for the idea to deliver a collection of limited-edition city and electric bikes in celebration of the launch of Amsterdam Proof. When riding your Veloretti, you want to look stylish too. The unisex rainwear capsule collection therefore makes perfect sense to combine when riding the Scotch & Soda x Veloretti bikes, rain or shine.”

About the range
The Scotch & Soda x Veloretti bike range includes electric and city bikes displaying a limited-edition camouflage design, as well as a classic city bike available in an exclusive shade of Dutch green.

Limited-Edition electric bikes
Veloretti’s Ace and Ivy electric bike models feature a limited-edition dazzle camouflage-inspired design, in a mix of Dutch green, butterscotch yellow, cedar brown and midnight black, echoing the colour palette of Scotch & Soda’s Amsterdam Proof capsule collection. The models feature a silent and powerful 65nm torque mid-engine connected to the pedals, automatically adjusting the power to the torque instead of speed, giving a natural electric biking experience, while the step-less Enviolo system automatically shifts gears, adapting to the rider’s behaviour. The Ace and Ivy electric bikes are equipped with hydraulic breaks, and a durable Gates belt drive made of carbon that does not need any oil, allowing to enjoy maintenance-free rides up to 30,000 kilometres. Uniquely designed, the battery-driven hyperbolic lights give consistent illumination to ensure safety from day to night. With 504 Wh and a range up to 120km, the in-house developed removable battery pack is easily detachable and rechargeable with any electrical power outlet. The Ace and Ivy electric bikes will retail for 2,699 euros.
Limited-Edition City Bikes

In addition to the electric bikes, two models of city bikes will be available in the limited-edition dazzle camouflage especially designed for the collaboration with Scotch & Soda:

The Caféracer, a lightweight and reliable option embodying a timeless design fit for every city, featuring a mid-in-step frame and standout components.

The Caféchaser, a top performer and a statement piece, featuring a unique crossbar adjoining the frame to the rear ax, embodying top speed from front to back.

The limited-edition Caféracer and Caféchaser will retail for 505 euros.

Classic City Bike

The Caféracer model, Veloretti's all-time classic, will feature an exclusive Dutch green, and will be available in two models, both retailing for 399 euros.

The Scotch & Soda x Veloretti bike collection celebrates the launch of Scotch & Soda’s Amsterdam Proof capsule, inspired by the functionality needed to face the elements in Amsterdam, the home city of both brands. The capsule collection features a range of unisex rainwear for adults and kids in a practical colour palette of khaki, olive green, rust brown and off-white, designed to bring joy and style no matter the weather conditions.

The unisex styles for adults include an oversized jacket with matching trousers, a poncho, a bucket hat, a body warmer, as well as an organic cotton hoodie. For kids, the unisex styles include a rain jacket, matching trousers and a body warmer. The weatherproof styles are rich in utility details and specially designed graphics with messages such as “Good planets are hard to find” or “Our space on Earth”, encapsulating Scotch & Soda’s relentless optimism. The Amsterdam Proof capsule collection will be available on Scotch & Soda’s website and directly operated stores worldwide.
