HiringThing Wins Platform as a Service in the 2023 Stratus Awards for Cloud Computing

HiringThing Stands Out as a PaaS in a Sea of Recruiting SaaS

9/20/23–Bartonsville, PA- HiringThing, the premier private label applicant tracking system, proudly announces they have won the 2023 Stratus Award for Cloud Computing in their annual business award program for Best Platform as a Service. The Stratus Awards seek to identify the companies, products, and people that are offering unique solutions that take advantage of cloud technologies.

"Recruiting technology is a crowded market and primarily dominated by SaaS offerings," said HiringThing CEO Joshua Siler. "HiringThing stands out due to our private label capabilities. Organizations partner with us to meet their clients' specific recruiting needs and present our recruiting software as their proprietary solution. Our PaaS grows their businesses while helping clients solve one of the top challenges across all industries: hiring and retention."

HiringThing works with their private label partners to ensure they have the workflows, capabilities, and functionality their clients need to succeed—it's not just about applying an organization's branding. They help with a robust rollout, onboarding, support, and strategy. Their sales, product, marketing, partner success, customer success, and engineering teams invest time and effort into our partners' success throughout their professional relationship and provide direct support for the end-user.

"HiringThing is one of the leaders in the cloud, helping to develop the infrastructure we need to store and host the data and applications driving our society," said Maria Jimenez, Chief Nominations Officer of Business Intelligence Group. "We are so proud to recognize all of the winners in this year's award program."
