Mighty Auto Parts Welcomes New Talent to Support Growth in the Automotive Aftermarket Industry

Peachtree Corners, GA — [October 03, 2023] — Mighty Auto Parts, a leading company in the automotive aftermarket industry, is pleased to welcome two new team members to support its growth strategy. The company's focus on providing outstanding service and cutting-edge solutions to its loyal customers is underscored by these strategic additions.

Ethan Green has joined the Mighty Product Team as Product Manager, with a primary focus on underhood products such as filtration, batteries, and wipers, along with several auxiliary underhood lines. Ethan's extensive background in the automotive dealership space makes him a valuable addition to the team. A native of South Carolina now residing in Roswell, Georgia, Ethan brings a wealth of experience to his role.

Sarah Thomas, a recent graduate from Kennesaw State University, joins the IT team as a Junior Software Developer. Her enthusiasm for learning and fresh perspective promise to invigorate Mighty's IT initiatives. As a Georgia native residing in Dacula, Sarah is eager to contribute her skills to the company's growth.

Josh D'Agostino, President and CEO of Mighty Auto Parts, expressed his excitement about these new hires: "We are committed to providing our franchisees and customers the best products and product programs backed by effective and impactful technology. We are pleased to welcome Ethan and Sarah to the Mighty family, and these hires reflect our dedication to providing the best solutions to our valued customers."
