

OutSolve's HR Gumbo Conference in New Orleans Displays National HR Compliance Talent and Local Expertise

Metairie, LA –OutSolve, a leading provider of employment compliance solutions, is proud to announce its inaugural HR Gumbo conference, taking place in New Orleans, LA October 21-24, 2024, at the Higgins Hotel. This highly anticipated conference brings together HR professionals, compliance experts and thought leaders to discuss critical trends and challenges shaping the future of HR compliance in 2025 and beyond.

This event brings together a variety of local and national experts such as:

- Keith Sonderling, former EEOC commissioner, sharing thoughts on what's next for regulatory issues of 2025
- Stefan Youngblood, Founder of HireBlack and expert in the use of artificial intelligence in business processes
- Julie Sowash of Disability Solutions providing insights on employment of individuals with disabilities
- Kathlyn Perez, a New Orleans-based employment lawyer specializing in all aspects of labor law
- Craig Leen, former OFCCP Director, brings his passion for disability inclusion in the workplace

In addition to these experts and many others, attendees will be inspired by keynote speakers Lt. General Russel Honoré and Elizabeth McCormick, Former US Army Black Hawk Pilot and Chief Warrant Officer 2 (Ret). The full agenda can be viewed on the event website. The event will culminate with a celebration of Veterans in the Workplace at the World War II Museum on Wednesday, October 23 including a commemorative donation to New Orleans own Bastion, a nonprofit providing supportive living environments for injured veterans and their families.

EXCLUSIVE MEDIA ACCESS:

Journalists attending HR Gumbo will have access to one-on-one interviews with key speakers and panelists, offering exclusive insights into the pressing issues facing HR leaders today. To arrange interviews or request a press pass, please contact Mary Madden at 443.569.0987 or mmadden@outsolve.com.

“We are thrilled to bring together some of the brightest minds in HR Compliance to share their expertise,” said Jeremy Mancheski, Founder and CEO of OutSolve. “With so much change happening in our field as well as the charged political impacts, HR Gumbo provides a unique opportunity for HR professionals to learn, network, and enjoy the cultural richness of New Orleans.”
