

LUNDIN GOLD ANNOUNCES CEO TRANSITION, CELEBRATING RON HOCHSTEIN'S REMARKABLE JOURNEY AND WELCOMING JAMIE BECK

Lundin Gold Inc. (TSX: LUG) (Nasdaq Stockholm: LUG) (OTCQX: LUGDF) ("Lundin Gold" or the "Company") today announced a planned leadership transition as Ron Hochstein will step down as President, CEO and Director of the Company after ten years of transformative leadership. Mr. Jamie Beck, former President, CEO and Director of Filo Corp. ("Filo"), will be appointed President, CEO and Director, effective November 7, 2025.

Ron Hochstein, President and CEO, commented, "With the support of the Board and our two largest shareholders, I have decided that the time is right to transition Lundin Gold to new leadership. The past ten years with Lundin Gold have been a tremendous adventure and very rewarding. During this time, I've had the privilege of working with people committed to making responsible mining in Ecuador a success for all stakeholders. I have worked with Jamie for over 15 years in various roles within the Lundin Group, and I am very confident that he will continue to build on this legacy that began with the vision of Lukas Lundin in 2014."

Jack Lundin, Chairman, commented, "Ron has had a remarkable impact on the mining industry as a builder, operator, and through his unwavering commitment to building Fruta del Norte and Lundin Gold into what it is today. Ron created a legacy for Ecuador in terms of delivering the benefits of what responsible mining can do for a country. As Ron transitions to a new opportunity within the Lundin Group, Lundin Gold is well-positioned for the future with a great pipeline of organic growth opportunities and with a strong and cohesive management team. The Board extends its deepest gratitude to Ron. We are equally confident that Jamie will guide the Company into an exciting new chapter."

Jamie brings a proven track record of creating shareholder value within the Lundin Group. Under his six-year leadership at Filo, the exploration program delivered the discovery of one of the largest copper, gold and silver deposits in the world, culminating in the $4.5 billion acquisition of Filo by BHP and Lundin Mining in January 2025. During Jamie's tenure as CEO, Filo delivered an approximate 1,700% return for its shareholders. Since joining in 2009, Jamie has held numerous senior roles within the Lundin Group, including at NGEx Resources, Filo Mining, Josemaria Resources, and Lundin Mining. He also has direct experience with Fruta del Norte, having provided financial analysis and support for Lundin Gold's US$240 million acquisition of Fruta del Norte from Kinross Corporation, and later during negotiations on fiscal terms with the Government of Ecuador. Jamie is a registered Professional Engineer in the Province of Ontario, holds a Bachelor of Applied Science in Mechanical Engineering from Queen's University, and an MBA from the University of British Columbia.

Jamie will start working with Lundin Gold, effective immediately, to ensure a smooth transition which reflects Lundin Gold's long-term commitment to governance, continuity, and sustainable growth.

Ron will support this transition over the next few months as he readies to pursue his next challenge within the Lundin Group following Jamie's appointment in November.
